

A WHOLE NEW VISUAL EXPERIENCE

SNEAK PREVIEW AT THE NEW YORK COMIC CON 2008

With cover art and in-your-face illustrations by comic book superstars Greg Horn and Glenn Fabry, Anna Smudge: Professional Shrink brings a NEW VISUAL EXPERIENCE to the world of children's books.

A New Look For Kids' Books

The comic book industry has become the nexus for all of the visual ideas that flow into popular culture—from video games to movies. Now Anna Smudge introduces that same sensibility to the children's book market with its dynamic layout, eye-popping digital color, and over-the-top character depictions. It's not a graphic novel. It's not a mere chapter book. It's something new.

Get Your Super Hero Tights Ready...

Anna Smudge: Professional Shrink will be unveiled to a crowd of over 50,000 at the New York Comic Con on April 18, 2008. This is no mere sneak peek—Anna will have her very own booth, smack in the middle of the excitement, with fun activities, T-shirts, buttons, posters, video displays, author & artist signings, and, of course, lots of books. So stick on a cape and come get your copy of Anna before she even hits bookstores.

The Artists

GREG HORN is an award-winning artist famous in the comic book industry for his jaw-dropping covers for titles such as Elektra, She-Hulk, and Ms. Marvel. With a fan following all over the world, Greg has recently been inducted into the Society of Illustrators. This is the first time his work has appeared in the children's book market. Visit him at GregHornJudge.com.

GLENN FABRY is a world renowned British comic book artist who has taken the industry by storm over the last twenty years. He has won two Eisner awards, and has worked with best selling writers Neil Gaiman and Garth Ennis. Check out his stuff at www.GlennFabry.co.uk.
